What is ServSafe®?

An up-to-date and comprehensive food safety training and certification program developed by the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation (NRAEF) — leading the restaurant and foodservice industry.

Why is obtaining ServSafe® certification important and valuable?

The program is recognized by more jurisdictions than any other manager food safety program and has the highest standard in training and certification in the industry.

What will I learn?

Tools to help you implement critical food safety practices in your operations and covers all major aspects of safe food handling environments for all your employees and guests. The Avendra led course is the most up-to-date version of the 2005 FDA food code.

How long is certification valid?

ServSafe® Food Safety certificates are valid for 5 years.

Certification ensures you and your staff have developed a mind-set and have the means to protect your customers and your business.

Responsible
Alcohol Training

What is ServSafe Alcohol™?

A program that outlines effective responsible alcohol service practices for all front-of-the-house staff, including bartenders, waiters, hosts, busers, security and valets. The alcohol program was designed using the same approach that ServSafe® pioneered for food safety training.

Why is obtaining ServSafe Alcohol™ program certification important and valuable?

Because the responsible alcohol service training decisions you make are critical. This class meets most state alcohol certification requirements and is BASSET equivalent.

What will I learn?

The training will provide guidelines and a framework that will ensure your front-of-the-house staff is prepared for difficult situations related to responsible alcohol service.

Where is ServSafe Alcohol™ program accepted?

This is an approved program by the Alcohol Beverage Control Commission (ABC) in 45 states. ServSafe Alcohol™ program approval is pending in Louisiana and Oregon.

Please note: the only accepted responsible alcohol service program at this time in Delaware, Hawaii, and New Mexico is provided by the state ABC, please contact the local ABC for more information.

How long is certification valid?

ServSafe Alcohol™ certificates are valid for 3 years.
