Getting the food on the table is only half of the battle that chefs face in banquet settings. Having the food served at the right temperature and keeping it at the right temperature are ongoing battles. Avendra's suppliers can help you win the whole battle. The banquet equipment suppliers that Avendra has partnered with offer a full range of equipment to address all of the different scenarios that may arise in a banquet setting while still being flexible, mobile and attractive.

FEATURED SUPPLIER

Alto-Shaam offers solutions to banqueting demands with the first, truly integrated banqueting system designed to provide enhanced food quality, food-handling efficiency and reduced labor.

Combitherm combination oven/steamers with the "Closed System" are the preferred product to use to provide low cost operating efficiencies for both bulk and plated production cooking and regeneration. Alto-Shaam Quick-Chillers safely and rapidly reduce the temperature of cooked foods and provide a five-day refrigerated storage life. Halo-Heat holding cabinets provide and maintain the highest possible food quality and longest possible product holding life.

All of this equipment is uniquely tied together with interchangeable roll-in carts, which can be rolled from combi-oven to quick chiller to warming cabinet. Banqueting for maximum efficiency of food handling and production flow with a minimum amount of labor. Look to Alto-Shaam banquet systems for back-of-the-house solutions designed for the hospitality industry to make certain every banquet is a total success.

Beverages are a commonality across all types of functions and oftentimes the distinguishing feature. The size, shape, capacity and usability features of beverage equipment are all characteristics that are closely scrutinized. Avendra knows beverage equipment must be utilitarian and aesthetically pleasing in order to meet your needs. The equipment must be low maintenance, yet high in capacity. Avendra's beverage equipment suppliers understand these requirements, as well as the harsh rigors and necessary standards of high-quality beverage equipment, and have products that can address all of your beverage equipment needs.

FEATURED SUPPLIER

Grindmaster was founded in 1933 to build upon America's fast-growing romance with coffee. Today, Grindmaster remains the leader in the industry, producing the most comprehensive line of beverage equipment in the world. Beverage Serving equipment offers the broadest and most diverse product line of any beverage equipment supplier. Grindmaster is simply better. Built simple. Built stronger. Built to last.

Being a member of the “clean plate club” takes on a whole new meaning in the hospitality sector. The cleanliness of your glasses and dishes is often the benchmark upon which the rest of your organization is judged, so having high-quality, reliable warewashing equipment is paramount. To this end, Avendra has carefully selected suppliers that provide warewashing equipment designed specifically to meet and exceed the high standards demanded by the hospitality industry.

FEATURED SUPPLIER

Hobart knows nothing leaves a bad taste in a customer’s mouth like a dirty dish, glass or piece of silverware. Hobart provides warewashers that can be counted on – the ones with the highest documented uptime in the industry – at more than 99%. At Hobart, equipment is designed to help address critical industry issues, including the best way to prepare a customer’s favorite dish. No wonder the food industry relies on Hobart more than any other warewasher.
